Welcome To The World Fiendish Feet

Hi! We're the Fiendish Feet... but of course you already know that.

I hope you will enjoy all the fiendish things that we get up to in this special Legacy Comic Book.

In the next few pages we'll tell you who we all are, just in case there are one or two of us you haven't met before.

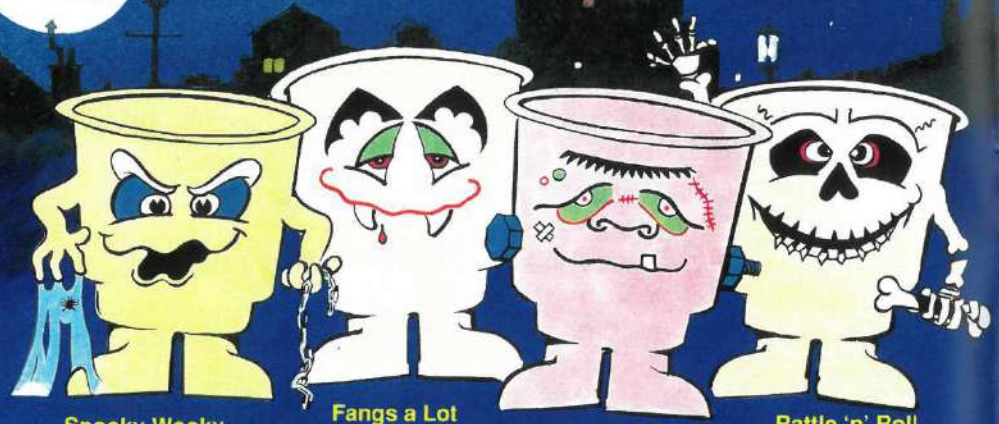
Then you can join in the mischief as we spend a day at the Funshine Fun Fair.

After our adventure you'll find some Fiendishly Fun Games, Comics, Puzzles and Quizzes to keep you amused.

Remember fiendish friends we are far too good to be bad!

PS. This is the first time all of this cool stuff has been published together!

It's Time To Meet The Fiendish Feet...



Spooky Wooky

The Leader of the Gang - he has ghostly powers that let him pass through walls, so he's always making surprise visits!

Fangs a Lot

Like all vampires he prefers the night - watch he doesn't ask you round for a bite!

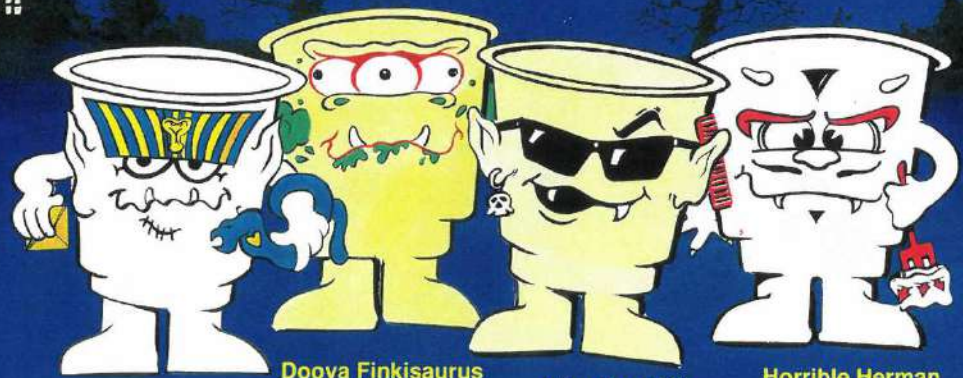
Frank 'n' Stein

He's no bright spark, but he certainly lights up when his bolts starts crackling with their electric current!

Rattle 'n' Roll

Make no bones about it, you can hear him rattling a mile off!

Series 1 & 2



Pharoah Nuff

He used to live in a pyramid but he couldn't see the point! A bit old and creaky, but still does his sand dance down at the disco.

Dooya Finkisaurus

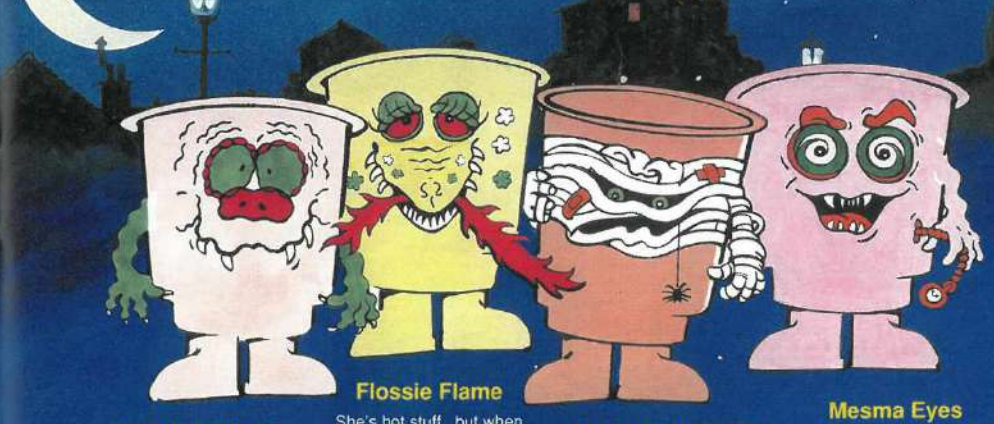
He's got 3-D vision...3 Directional! All his friends think he's great to be seen with.

Howling Wilf

Thinks it's cool to howl at the moon...when he can actually see it through his shades, that is.

Horrible Herman

A right little devil - when it comes to mischief he breaks all records...and windows, plates, cups...



Trembling Trev

So timid he's scared of his own shadow - lucky he has a pal like Snortilla The Grunt to look after him.

Flossie Flame

She's hot stuff...but when she's cross she can be a right old dragon!

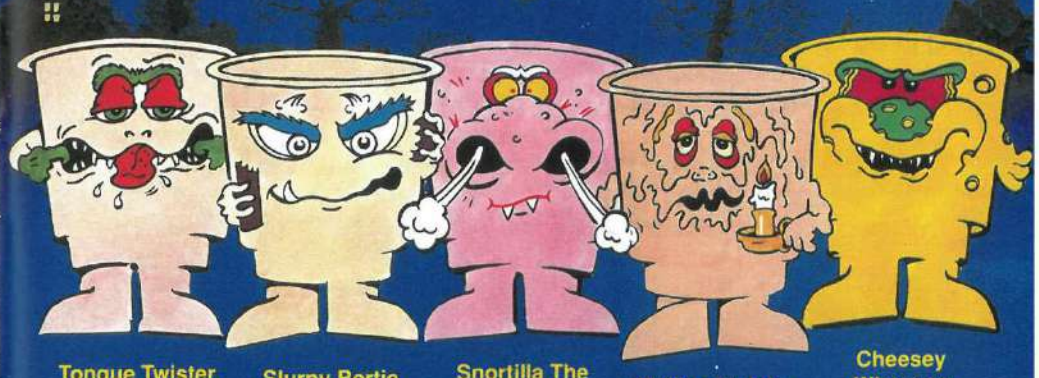
Moaning Mummy

From the same pyramid as Pharoah Nuff, when it comes to bandages she's the Queen of the Wrappers!

Mesma Eyes

Knows how to get her way with her spellbinding stare that makes you...feel...very...sl...zzzzzzz!

Series 3 & 4



Tongue Twister

The biggest tongue you've ever seen, he can lick a lolly at 500 paces!

Slurpy Bertie

He's big, hairy and so noisy with his food that only his chum Tongue Twister will sit next to him.

Snortilla The Grunt

More hippo than hip, he's big, noisy and loves charging around - he'd never get a job in a library.

Melting Melvin

He could never be cool because when things warm-up he just starts to melt!

Cheesey Wheesey

He wears Old Socks aftershave and has a big menacing grin because he's always saying "Cheese!"

Wicked Wordsearch

The Fiendish Feet always stand out above the rest but, as Frank 'n' Stein has found out, some of them seem to be caught up here in a muddle of letters.

See if you can make them stand out, along with the other Fiendish words in our list, by drawing a line around the words as our example shows.

The words can be horizontal, vertical, diagonal or backwards!

A FIENDISH DAY AT THE FUN FAIR

It was a bank holiday weekend and outside the fridge the sun was shining. So the Fiendish Feet decided to have a really fun day out. The only problem was trying to agree where to go.

"I want to go to the zoo" snorted Snortilla The Grunt.

"No way!" wailed Spooky Wooky. "

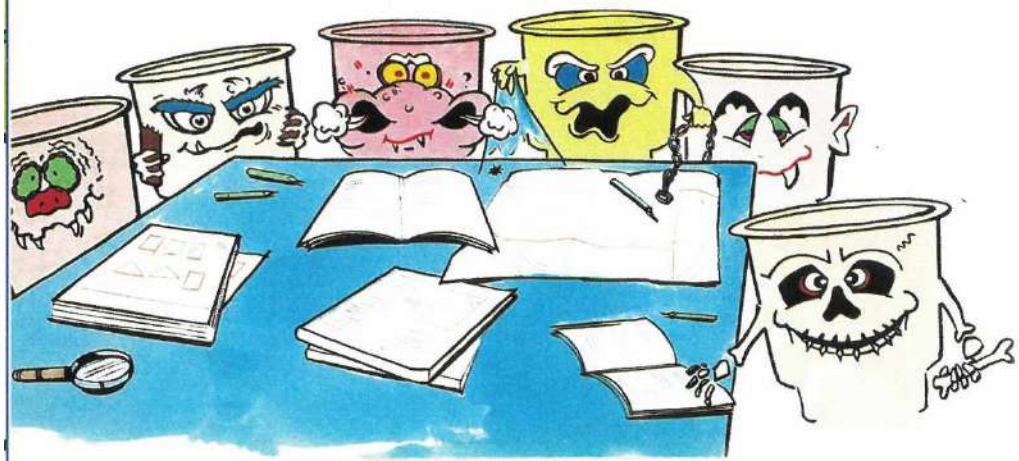
Last time we went there they kept you in."

"What about the Funshine Fun Fair?" said Spooky Wooky.

"That's always loads of fun."

(Of course to the Fiendish Feet, fun meant anything where they could get up to as much mischief as possible.)

"Brilliant!!" said everyone else, except Trembling Trev who looked extremely nervous at the thought of the Fun Fair.



So off they set on their special bicycle, The Grandem - the world's grandest, scariest tandem, with enough peddles and seats so that all the Fiendish Feet can ride it at the same time. As they got nearer to the Funshine Fun Fair they could hear all the excited screams and shouts from several streets away!

"That will be five pounds each to get in" said the man at the gate when they arrived.

"Don't you mean...ALL...THE...FIENDISH...FEET...CAN...GO...IN...FOR... FREE?" said Mesma Eyes, her big whirlygig eyes spinning round and round.

"I...mean...all...the...Fiendish Feet...can...go..in...for...free" the man agreed.

He was completely under the spell of Mesma Eyes.

"I knew he'd see things my way" laughed Mesma Eyes as all the Fiendish Feet charged through the gate.

What the Fiendish Feet didn't know was that a policeman had spotted their little trick. He started to follow the Fiendish Feet, but there were so many people in the Funshine Fun Fair that he soon lost them in the crowds.

"I want a word with that lot when I find them" the policeman said to himself.

The Fiendish Feet loved visiting the Fun Fair. This year everything looked even more exciting than ever before. There were hundreds of people everywhere. Kids, mums, dads and grandparents alike were all having a fantastic time.

"This year's rides look even BIGGER!" said Spooky Wooky.

"And FASTER!" said Pharaoh Nuff.

"And much more FRIGHTENING!" said Cheesey Wheesey. And indeed they were!

There were Big Wheels, Dodgems, Merry-Go-Rounds, Water Slides and lots more, including the Funshine Fun Fair's world famous Roller Coaster.

Everyone cheered except Trembling Trev who started to shiver and shake. "P...p...perhaps I'd b...b...better go back and t...t...tidy up the fridge" he said nervously.

"Don't be such a scaredy-cat. We'll look after you" said Spooky Wooky.

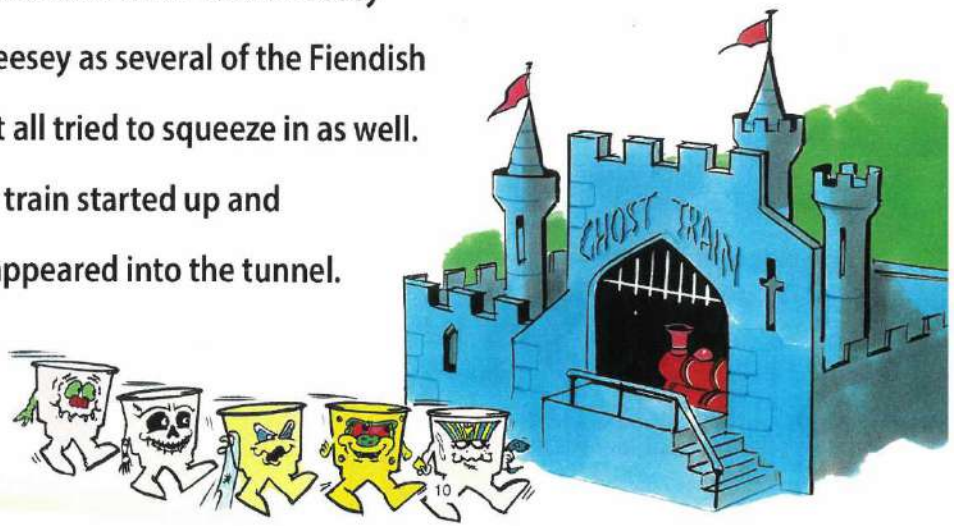
Just then he spotted the Ghost Train.

"We can have some fun in there" he laughed and all the other Fiendish Feet giggled too.

With a big cheer the Fiendish Feet charged over to the Ghost Train.

"Let's get in this car" said Pharaoh Nuff and he sat down behind a man and a woman.

"Shove over then" said Cheesey Wheesey as several of the Fiendish Feet all tried to squeeze in as well. The train started up and disappeared into the tunnel.



They crashed through a wooden door and a ghostly shape leapt out at them.

"Isn't that Rattle 'n' Roll with a sheet over him?" sniggered Pharaoh Nuff. ™

"No, I'm behind you" said Rattle 'n' Roll poking Pharaoh Nuff in the back with his boney finger.

Spooky Wooky noticed that the couple sitting in front looked a bit bored. "I don't think these nice people are getting their money's worth" he said to his friends.

"Time we "adder" laugh" replied Pharaoh Nuff and taking his pet snake from his hat, he placed it around the woman's shoulders.

The woman looked at the man next to her. "You don't need to put your arm around me" she said in a cross voice "I'm not frightened."

"I haven't got my arm around you" said the man holding up both his hands.

"Well what's that around my.... Aaaghhhh!" screamed the woman. "It's a snake!"

She grabbed the man's arm in fright.

Pharaoh Nuff and his friends were rolling about with laughter in their seats. "Don't be silly" said the man trying to sound brave. "It can't be a real snake. You are a big baby."

"Well you're the one who's afraid of spiders" replied the woman.

"Did someone mention spiders?" said Spooky Wooky, popping his head up through the floor of the train. "I seem to have lost mine."

"Who said that?" asked the man looking down at his feet.

When he saw Spooky Wooky he jumped out of his skin!

"Help!" he cried, "There are real ghosts in here."

"Well what do you expect in a Ghost Train?" laughed Spooky Wooky.

The man and woman both buried their heads under their arms. They were so frightened that they refused to open their eyes until the train stopped.

"Hope you didn't buy a return ticket" grinned Cheesey Wheesey as all the Fiendish Feet jumped out and ran off giggling.

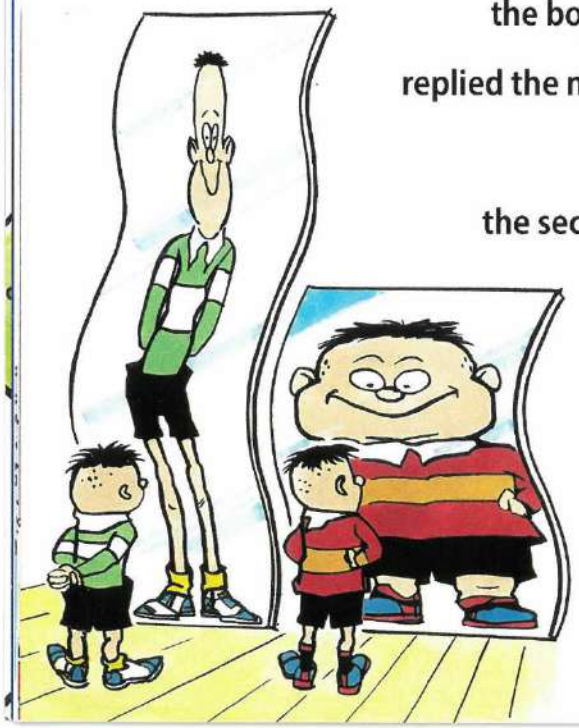
"Where to now?" asked Spooky Wooky.

"ve a great idea for a joke" cried Dooya Finkisaurus excitedly. "Follow me!" He led them all into the Hall of Mirrors. "Right" he said, "this is the plan...." A few minutes later two boys came into the Hall of Mirrors. When they saw how funny their reflections looked they started laughing and pointing. Some of the mirrors made them look tall and skinny. Some made them look like they'd been squashed flat. And some mirrors made them go all wavey like a snake.

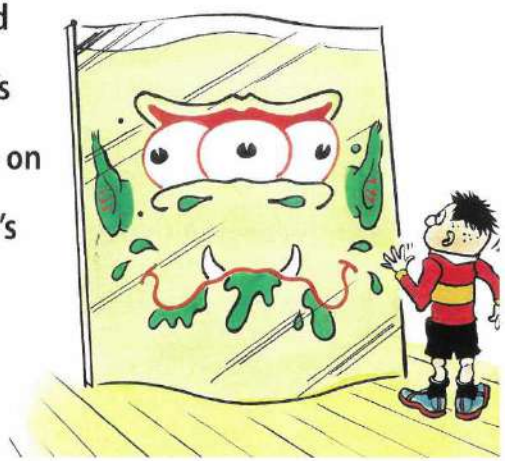
"Look at this one!" shouted one of the boys. "It makes me look like some sort of horrible hippopotamus. Really ugly!"

"Well this one's got three eyes. Yuk!" said his friend.

"Mirror mirror on the wall, who's the ugliest of us all?" chanted the first boy. "You are" said the first mirror. "Who said that?" cried the boy in surprise. "I did ugly-mug!" replied the mirror. "Yeah, and you're not so good looking yourself" said the second mirror to the boy's friend.



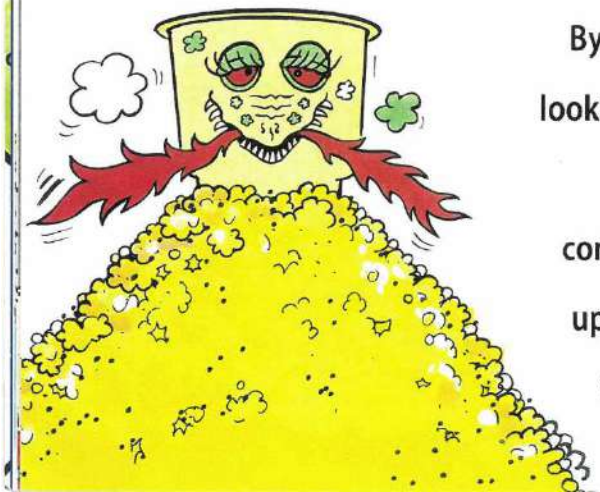
"W...w...what?" said the two terrified boys, trying to leap into each other's arms at the same time and crashing on the floor in a heap instead. Yes, that's right, the mirrors were really Snortilla The Grunt and Dooya Finkisaurus. "Ha ha ha" laughed Spooky Wooky and the others, appearing from behind the other mirrors. "On reflection, that was a great joke Dooya Finkisaurus!"



All this mischief was starting to make some of the Fiendish Feet feel rather hungry. Flossie Flame was particularly peckish. So off she went to find something to eat. Flossie Flame spotted a man unloading some boxes of food from the back of a van. He was carrying the boxes into his mobile shop which was Selling hot dogs, hamburgers and popcorn. "Tee hee!" giggled Flossie Flame to herself. "That looks like a likely place for food." As soon as the hot dog man wasn't looking she nipped into the back of the van.

Unfortunately a gust of wind blew the van door shut. Flossie Flame was trapped inside! "It's very dark in here" thought Flossie Flame. "I can't see what there is to eat." So she took a deep breath and let out a big flame from her mouth to see what she was doing. Whoops! What Flossie didn't realise was that the boxes contained uncooked popcorn. As soon as she breathed on the boxes the popcorn started to pop! The noise was incredible!

Ping! went the exploding popcorn. And Ker-Pang! as it bounced around inside the van. The poor shop owner didn't know what was happening. It sounded like fireworks going off! Of course it wasn't really. It was only popcorn. All the people queueing at the shop were certainly very worried. They all dived on to the ground or ran for cover.



At last the noise stopped. By now the Policeman who was looking for the Fiendish Feet, had come to see what all the commotion was about. He crept up to the van. Ever so slowly he turned the door handle then flung the door open. Instantly he was buried under a mountain of popcorn. And there, sitting right on top of this popcorn mountain was Flossie Flame, grining from ear to ear

"Popcorn, anyone?" she giggled.

When the hot dog man saw what had happened to his popcorn he was very cross. So was the policeman who had popcorn all over him. It was even in his boots! "I think you'd better do something to make up for this" said the hot dog man. "My oven isn't working very well and | can't cook enough hamburgers and sausages. Your flame will be very useful." So Flossie Flame stayed in the shop and cooked lots and lots of hot dogs and hamburgers. And very delicious they were too!

Soon Spooky Wooky and the rest of the gang arrived to see what had happened to Flossie Flame. They found her alright. They also found the policeman!

"I want a word with you" shouted the policeman.

"I don't know what the matter is with him, but he looks ever so cross" wailed Spooky Wooky. "Quick, everyone...run!"

So all the Fiendish Feet, except Flossie Flame, ran off, with the policeman in hot pursuit.

Just as it looked as if the policeman would catch them, the Fiendish Feet reached the Roller Coaster. It was the biggest and fastest any of them had ever seen and it had been packed all day with excited children (and their extremely nervous parents!).

All aboard shouted Spooky Wooky and the Fiendish Feet squeezed into a car next to two very surprised children. All the Fiendish Feet got on except for poor old Frank 'n' Stein who was too slow.

The Policeman climbed into the car behind , just as the Roller Coaster started to move. "He can chase us all he likes on here, but he'll never catch up with us" laughed Pharaoh Nuff.

The roller coaster moved very slowly at first. It climbed up and up the steep slope. Then, just as it reached the top....Whoooosh!

Down it roarded.

It made Spooky Wooky's chains rattle like mad and Moaning Mummy's bandages were flapping all over the place!

The car began to climb again up and up to the highest point on the track. But Just as it got there it suddenly stopped and refused to move. "I think we've broken down" said Spooky Wooky.

"I'm frightened Brian" said the little girl sitting with the Fiendish Feet.

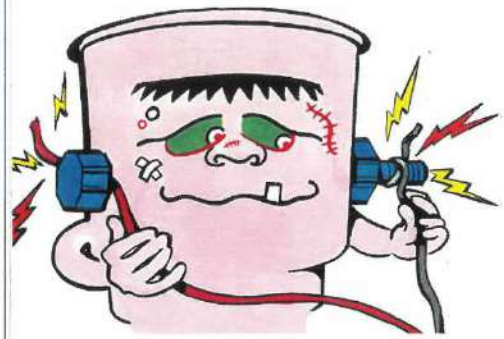
"Don't worry Susie" said Brian to his sister. "I'm sure the Fiendish Feet will look after us."

In fact everybody aboard the roller coaster was frightened, including the Fiendish Feet. Only howling Wilf didn't mind the height because he couldn't see through his sunglasses. Even the poor policeman was terrified.

"Help!" He cried, "I can't stand heights!"

Spooky Wooky knew he had to do something.

"Hang on everyone!" he said and floated back down to the ground, as only a ghost can.

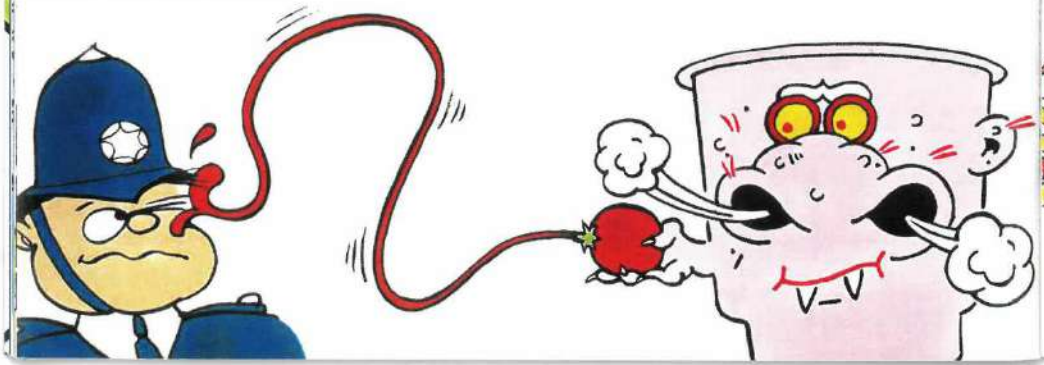


A huge crowd had gathered to see what was going on. "What's the problem?" Spooky Wooky asked the man in charge of the Roller Coaster.

"The electric motor's packed up" replied the man. "I don't know how long it will take to fix it."

"I've got an idea Spooky" said Frank 'n' Stein who had been watching from the ground. He pulled the wires out of the electric motor and attached them to his bolts in his neck. There was a flash of sparks and the roller coaster started again.

The whole crowd cheered as the cars returned to the ground safely and everybody including Brain and Susie, got out. The policeman was so happy that everyone was safe, he rushed up to thank Spooky Wooky and Frank 'n' Stein. A few minutes later Flossie Flame turned up with the hot dog man. He had a large tray of hamburgers as a reward for the brave Fiendish Feet.



With a big cheer they all tucked into the food.

"What a hungry lot" said the hot dog man to the policeman.

Just then Snortilla The Grunt grabbed the tomato ketchup and accidently squirted it... straight in the policeman's eye!

The policeman was just about to get cross when he remembered how the Fiendish Feet had saved everybody on the Roller Coaster. So he just shook his head and took out his handkerchief to wipe his eye.

"Time to go" said Spooky Wooky with a grin. " I think we've caused enough chaos for one day." So the Fiendish Feet climbed back onto the grandem and cycled off home again.

"Those Fiendish Feet" sighed the policeman, "what do you do with them?"

The hot dog man just laughed. He knew what we all know about the Fiendish Feet. "Well" he said, "they're far too good to be bad!"
